

PRONOUNS

Diego Bello 8v

Ingles

Pronouns are one of the 9 parts of speech in English grammar. A pronoun is a word that takes the place of a noun. Pronouns are important in English. They are some of the first words we learn: I, you, he, she, it. There are different kinds of pronouns for different situations: subject pronouns, object pronouns, possessive pronouns, and reflexive pronouns. Instead of Sara, we can say she. Instead of those guys, we can say them. Instead of the sun, we can say it.

CONDITIONALS

Diego Bello 8V

Ingles

Zero conditional

You can make a zero conditional sentence with two present simple verbs (one in the 'if clause' and one in the 'main clause'):
if + present simple, ...present simple.

This conditional is used when the result will always happen. So, if water reaches 100 degrees, it always boils. It's a fact. I'm talking in general, not about one particular situation. The result of the 'if clause' is always the main clause.

The 'if' in this conditional can usually be replaced by 'when' without changing the meaning.
For example: If water reaches 100 degrees, it boils. (It is always true, there can't be a different result sometimes). If I eat peanuts, I am sick. (This is true only for me, maybe, not for everyone, but it's still true that I'm sick every time I eat peanuts).

Here are some more examples:

- If people eat too much, they get fat.
- If you touch a fire, you get burned.
- People die if they don't eat.
- You get water if you mix hydrogen and oxygen.
- Snakes bite if they are scared
- If babies are hungry, they cry

1 Complete the following exercises with zero conditional.

- If I wake up (wake up) late, I will be (be) late for work.
- If my husband cooks (cook), he will burn (burn) the food.
- If Julie doesn't wear (not wear) a hat, she will get (get) sunstroke.
- If children don't eat (not/eat) well, they won't be (not/be) healthy.
- If you Mix (mix) water and electricity, you will get (get) a shock.
- If people eat (eat) too many sweets, they will get (get) fat.
- If you smoke (smoke), you will get (get) yellow fingers.
- If children Play (play) outside, they won't get (not/get) overweight.

First Conditional

Diego Belloz

Ingles

The first conditional has the present simple after 'if', then the future simple in the other clause:
if + present simple, ... will + infinitive

It's used to talk about things which might happen in the future. Of course, we can't know what will happen in the future, but this describes possible things, which could easily come true.

- ... if it rains, I won't go to the park.
- ... if I study today, I'll go to the party tonight.
- ... if I have enough money, I'll buy some new shoes.
- ... She'll be late if the train is delayed.
- ... She'll miss the bus if she doesn't leave soon.
- ... if I see her, I'll tell her.

First vs. Zero Conditional:

The first conditional describes a particular situation, whereas the zero conditional describes what happens in general.

For example (zero conditional):

If you sit in the sun, you get burned (here I'm talking about every time a person sits in the sun - the burning is a natural consequence of the sitting)

But (first conditional): if you sit in the sun, you'll get burned (here I'm talking about what will happen today, another day might be different)

- If he comes (come), I will be (be) surprised.
- If we wait (wait) here, we will be (be) late.
- If we go (go) on holiday this summer, we will go (go) to Spain.

THIRD CONDITIONAL

We make the third conditional by using the past perfect after 'if' and then 'would have' and the past participle in the second part of the sentence:

if + past perfect, ... would + have + past participle

If clause	Main clause
If + Past Perfect tense	would/could/might + have + past participle

It talks about the past. It's used to describe a situation that didn't happen, and to imagine the result of this situation. If she had studied, she would have passed the exam (but, really we know she didn't study and so she didn't pass)

If I hadn't eaten so much, I wouldn't have felt sick (but I did eat a lot, and so I did feel sick).

If we had taken a taxi, we wouldn't have missed the plane
