Windows taskbar showing search bar with "Escribe aquí para buscar", taskbar icons for Chrome, PowerPoint, File Explorer, Word, Excel, Teams, and WhatsApp, system tray with "Escritorio", "ESP IN", and "3:17 p. m. 25/05/2021".

*RE-USING functions is great
Below this box, the text SPACE - CONTINUE is written in green. At the bottom of the game area, there is a white bar with a menu icon, the text 'Light bot', the 'Cooljuegos.com' logo, and a 'Puzzle Games >>' button. On the right side of this bar, there is a blue 'Activar Windows' watermark and a blue arrow icon.

What you just went through is the kind of logic programmers go through on a daily basis.

If you enjoyed thinking in this way and using logic to solve problems, consider trying to learn a real programming language

Some examples are Turing, Java and Flash Actionscript. Programming isn't for everyone so
