

Was he celebrating his birthday?

Past Perfect

Is he celebrating his birthday?

Present Progressive

She will buy a gift

Future Simple

He will take the final exam

Future Simple

He played football every thursday

Past Simple

He was playing football

Past Progressive

He had won five matches

Past Perfect

She teaches Russian on Monday

Present Perfect

He is watching TV right now

Present Progressive

They played soccer yesterday

Past Simple

He has lived in New York

Present Perfect

I am living a dream

Present Progressive

I have been written a letter

Present Perfect Progressive

I read a book yesterday

Past Simple

I will travel abroad

Future Simple

1) The earth revolves around the sun	Present simple
He is walking the dog	Present Progressive
I have been taking a dog medicine	Present Perfect
He has planted a ridge of chuliflowers	Present Perfect
I used to go for a walk	Past simple
I go for a walk	Present simple
Julia had completed her assignment	Past Perfect
He had been playing hockey for two	Past Perfect Progressive
I will go to the beach	Future
Tom will have complete his graduation	Future Perfect
She will be baking pies for her children	Future Progressive
I speak French quite well	Present simple
The teacher has explained the class	Present Perfect
She has been trying to learn	Present Perfect Progressive
He admired the poetry of Juan	Past simple
The little boy fed the fish	Past simple
She serves the dinner	Present simple
Has he already left for England	Present Perfect
He has been discussing the interior	Present Perfect Continuous
I did not wish to talk	Past simple