Parte 5.

James Salter's Day in Film

James Salter was a pilot in the United States Air Force. He abandoned the military profession in 1957 after the publication of his first novel, the Hunters. He is best known as a novelist, but during the Sixties and Seventies he worked in film, and even was the director of a film called Three, starring Charlotte Rampling and Sam Waterston.

In Passionate Falseness, which was adapted from Salter's book Burning the Days, published in the New Yorker in 1997, Salter tells the story of his life in film.

Salter's time in the film world is both good and bad. In Rome, he met directors and stars. In New York, he explored the city with Robert Redford and enjoyed being famous. Deborah Treisman and Michael O'Gara have talked about Salter.

"of sixteen texts for movies, only four were popular. there was money, attractive women, and entrance into rooms ^{habitaciones} where there were stories more for the dinner table than for the page" ^{pagina} Salter thought was wasting his time.

perhaps he wasted his time in a larger ^{mas grande} artistic way, but it still makes for attractive reading. the last book is available to everyone in online stores.

Swift pizza and sandwich House.

today we have the pleasure of showing you
the best letter written by our customer mark.
He wins €25 for writing about us this week. He is so happy with the orders at swift pizza
and sandwich house that he wants to declare a holiday to celebrate his experience here: "happy burgerday and merry sandwichmas to everyone"
"he wrote.

wednesday may 18, 2011.

one typical day I was too tired after working all day long to cook for myself, and I was very hungry. I really wanted something to eat, so I decided to find a burger.

I ordered a half-pound burger and a lamb and chicken sandwich. I also made some special orders for extra chesse and vegetable.

Food arrived very fast (less than twenty minutes) and was hot and fresh. The burger was delicious, and left me wanting more - fortunately I had the sandwich left. It felt as if it had been cut just a minute before I opened it - juicy, fresh, and great.

Every single special request I made was completely satisfied, 100%!
