→ answer the questions

a what is a connector? give an example

b what is a linking word? give an example

c what are the differences between connector and linking word

Solution

A It is used to express an idea that is different from or opposite to the other idea mentioned before

Example: I thought she would not come to the party conversely she came to the party with her boyfriend.

B Linking words and phrases are used to show relationships between ideas to join or more sentences

Example: Traffic congestion is a problem in my city.

C On the hand connectors are conjunctions that join words or propositions to each other that is they are normally used within the same sentence

Linkers are words or group of words that connect phrases or ideas from the next.
