

Phrasal verbs

piece of cake: refers to something that is easy

- to run late / to run behind

- to get the hang of (something) = to learn something that is not obvious

- all set = saying that someone is ready or everything is in order

- to pound like a hammer, record: to record the same information that is helpful

- to blow off some steam = to do or say something to help you get rid of some energy

- it's not rocket science = to say something is not difficult and should be easy to understand

- to table (something) lets table this item for later, and then we will discuss it later

- to jump on the bandwagon to sit in the hot seat (section) to sit in seats that are high up in a stadium