HORIZONTAL

- 2 If an adjective has two or more syllables, we add the word in front to create the comparative form.
- 3 We use to say that someone or something has an inferior quality, size or characteristic.
- 5 When you refer to the two people/things you are comparing, you need to use.
- 7 For irregular one-syllable adjectives in English, ending in a consonant and preceded by a vowel, you must double the final consonant as fat.
- 8 When the adjective ends in -y, you must replace it with -i, and add -er as is-busy.

VERTICAL

- 1 In long adjectives, the comparative is formed with the term more before the adjective as beautiful.
- 4 To form the comparative, just add -er to the end of the adjective as big.
- 6 Although most adjectives fall within the category of regular, however there are some that are irregular and that are very commonly used as good.
- 9 When the adjective ends in -y, you must replace it with -i and add -er.
