The incredible machine

Everyone has a favorite attraction at an amusement park and I am not different. However, unlike most people who seem to prefer roller coasters, my favorite ride is a little more gentle. Every time I go to Coney Island, Navy Pier, or the San Francisco Pier, I absolutely have to ride the Ferris wheels.

The Ferris wheel is simple and yet also quite complex. That riding it is easy, but how it works is complicated. A series of carts are attached to a wheel, which is attached to a rim, that rim rotates vertically around an axis.

What it looks like

While the Ferris wheel is not as thrilling as a roller coaster, it is still very exciting. The fact of being high in the air makes it so much more entertaining than a lot of rides. I mean how often do you hang from that height up in dolly life?

Never. Well, I have to admit, I don't seek Ferris wheels out because of their excitement. Rather, I find them very relaxing.

They keep reaching higher and higher.

Ferris Wheel technology has only improved since then. Most of today's Ferris wheels are much larger than that first one, the largest in the world is the "Singapore Flyer" which stands slightly taller than twice what Ferris did.

I Wish That I Bought a big house
I Wish That Coronavirus Disappeared now
I Wish That I left home
I Wish That I had a beautiful family
I Wish That I won the video game

We also use 'Wish' with 'Could' to talk about things in the present or future that we would like to be different

I Wish that I Could speak Spanish (but, Unfortunately, I can't speak spanish)

I Wish that I Could drive (I can't drive)

I Wish that We Could go to the party tonight (Unfortunately, we're busy so we can't go)

I Wish that John could help you clean up (John is at work, so he can't help)

Wish + (that) + Would:

We use would with Wish in a little bit of a special way. It's generally used about other people who are doing (or not doing) something that we don't like and we want that person to change.

I Wish that John wouldn't eat all the chocolate (John does usually eat all the chocolate and I don't like it, I want him to change his behavior!).

I Wish that The neighbours would be quiet (they are not quiet and I don't like the noise)

I Wish that you wouldn't smoke so much. (You do smoke a lot and I don't like it. I want you to change this.)

I Wish that you wouldn't work late so often

I Wish that it would stop raining

I Wish that Andrea would pay Attention

Wish + (That) + Past Perfect

We can use Wish with the past perfect to talk about regrets from the past. These are things that have already happened but we wish they'd happened in a different way.

I Wish that I had studied harder at school (I didn't study hard at school, and now I'm sorry about it.)

I Wish that I hadn't eaten so much yesterday (But I didn't eat a lot yesterday. Now I think it wasn't a good idea.)

I Wish that the train had been on time. (But unfortunately the train was late, and so I missed my interview.)
