

Post Perfect

- He has been coming to school every day
- He has finished a range of assignments in his garden
- I have been looking for a job of interest for two weeks
- I want to go for a holiday
- She has been waiting for a reply
- He had been playing hockey for two hours
- I will be on the beach next Sunday
- John will have completed his assignments by now
- She will be taking care for her children
- They are going to be well
- The teacher has explained the use of the verb to the class
- She has been trying to learn French for six months
- He admired the quality of his paper
- The little boy fed the fish in the pond
- He was the winner at half-past eight
- Our teacher is delivering the lecture
- Has he already left for school for night school?
- He has been observing the interior design for two days
- Did not learn to talk to about that matter
- Was he celebrating his birthday last week?
- Is he celebrating his birthday last week?
- Is he celebrating his birthday?
- She will buy a gift for her friend
- She will take the final exam next year
- He played football
- She has been waiting for a reply
- She teaches Russian in the school
- He is watching to right now
- They played soccer yesterday
- He has been in new work for three years
- I am living a dream

Simple Present
Present Progressive
Past Progressive

Present Perfect
Present P or C.
Past simple

Post Perfect
Post Perfect Continuous
Future Simple

Future Perfect Simple
Future Progressive